

Solidarity with the victims of terrorist attacks

2017-08-19

On Thursday 14, first in Barcelona later on in Finland and Russia, Islamic State, IS terrorist group once again targeted innocent civilians in a barbaric manner killing young, children and injuring more than one hundred of people.

As the defeat of IS is accelerating in Iraq and Syria, terrorist organisation is diversify its activities in different parts of the world and mostly in the European countries. European countries and especially European Union should urgently consider new security measures and political courage to eliminate threat on civilian people. In this regard, it is also very important to keep close coordination and cooperation with the forces battling IS terrorist organisation.

Since its arrival to Iraq and Syria, IS carried out genocide, killings and destruction against Chaldean-Syriac-Assyrian people and other ethnic and religious groups in Iraq and Syria. It is common struggle that will unite civilized world to act together.

European Syriac Union, ESU condemns IS terrorists attacks, our thoughts are with victims, injured and their families. We believe that European countries with their capacity are able to take courageous actions in order to secure the life of their populations.
